

POSITION PAPER

Committee: United Nations Human Rights Council

Delegation of United Arab Emirates

Agenda - Upholding and safeguarding the principles enshrined in Article 5 of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights (UDHR)

The United Arab Emirates (UAE) acknowledges the importance of promoting and protecting human rights as enshrined in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights (UDHR). Article 5 of the UDHR specifically addresses the fundamental right to freedom from torture and cruel, inhuman, or degrading treatment or punishment. The UAE recognizes the significance of upholding this right and remains committed to international efforts aimed at its implementation.

Current Stance in confirming with agenda:

The UAE has made significant strides in promoting human rights and combating torture and cruel treatment within its borders. The country has ratified several international treaties and conventions related to human rights, including the Convention Against Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment (CAT). Additionally, the UAE has implemented domestic legislation and initiatives aimed at preventing torture and ensuring accountability for perpetrators. The UAE recognizes the importance of addressing these challenges and continues to work towards strengthening its legal framework, enhancing accountability mechanisms, and promoting awareness of human rights principles.

Position of the UAE

The UAE emphasizes the importance of robust legislative frameworks to prevent torture and cruel treatment. The country is committed to continuously reviewing and updating its laws to align with international human rights standards, including those outlined in the UDHR. The UAE acknowledges the necessity of holding perpetrators of torture and cruel treatment accountable for their actions. The country supports efforts to strengthen judicial systems, enhance law enforcement training, and ensure fair and impartial investigations into allegations of human rights abuses.

The UAE recognizes the importance of preventative measures and rehabilitation programs for victims of torture. The country supports initiatives aimed at raising awareness, promoting tolerance, and providing support services to survivors of torture and their families. The UAE believes in the significance of international cooperation and dialogue in addressing human rights challenges, including those related to torture and cruel treatment. The country is committed to engaging constructively with the international community, sharing best practices, and participating in multilateral initiatives aimed at promoting human dignity and respect for all individuals.

Proposed Solutions:

POSITION PAPER

The UAE proposes increased support and technical assistance from the United Nations and other international organizations to strengthen the capacity of national institutions responsible for upholding human rights and combating torture. The UAE advocates for the establishment of robust monitoring mechanisms, including independent oversight bodies and regular reporting mechanisms, to ensure compliance with international human rights standards. The UAE recommends the development of comprehensive victim support programs, including legal aid, psychosocial support, and access to rehabilitation services, to assist survivors of torture in rebuilding their lives and seeking justice.

In conclusion, The United Arab Emirates reaffirms its commitment to upholding the principles of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, including Article 5, which prohibits torture and cruel treatment. The UAE remains dedicated to working with the international community to address challenges, strengthen protections, and promote human dignity for all individuals.
